DAILY GAZETTE.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

—They asked for "Tom Collins" in the Legislature yesterday, but Thomas failed to respond.

—Yesterday the President nominated Michael Schaeffer as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Utah.

—The Republican Territorial Convention, in session at Deer Lodge, Montana, yesterday instructed the delegates for Blaine.

—The Labor Reformers got through with their work yesterday, and having "resoluted" pretty specifically folded their tents, and silently stole away.

—The Moody and Sankey meetings in New York ended yesterday. They began February 5. The number of converts, it is said, reaches high up in the thousands.

—There is now no apprehension of a general Indian war—so say advices from Omaha. That thrashing given Crazy Horse injected more pacific thoughts into the cranium of "Lo."

—John B. Felton, a San Francisco lawyer, is a lucky man. He gained a great mining suit some time ago, and was paid a fee of $1,000,000. We should like to feel as he Felton that occasion.—Courier-Journal.

—Two men entered the bank at Baxter Springs yesterday, and while one held a pistol at the head of the cashier, the other gobbled up $3,000 and both then escaped into the Indian Territory, with the cashier and citizens in hot pursuit.

—According to the new bill apportioning the appointment of Treasury Clerks by States according to population, Pennsylvania will have 269 representatives among the 2,500 clerks. The ratio gives one clerk for every 16,000 inhabitants.

—The New York papers admit, with the greatest coolness, that the hotel bill of King Kalakaua has not yet been paid. The bill amounts to about $6,000, and as Kalakaua has threatened to pay New York another visit this summer, he is likely to still further increase the financial difficulties of Gotham.

—Senator Hamilton, of Texas, has given notice that he means to press in committee the Huntington bill, which takes away the land grant and other privileges of the Texas Pacific Railroad in order to confer them on Huntington's Southern Pacific Railroad and their allies. The movement is certain to fail.

—It is stated that negotiations have been pending at Constantinople since the 5th instant, between the Porte and a special envoy of Montenegro, demanding the cession of the Herzegovinian valley as far as Mostar, and besides the harbor of Spizza. The newspapers express fears lest the Sultan raise the standard of the Prophet, thus appealing to Mahomedan fanaticism.

—The Indiana Democracy had a lively pow-wow at Indianapolis yesterday, but finally succeeded in fixing upon a compromise candidate. Holman and Landers went out of the gubernatorial race together, and the "Tall Sycamore of the Wabash" was only once mentioned. The platform is an ingenious piece of jugglery—an effort to ride all the financial hobbies and catch all the floating votes at the polls.

—A brutal murder was committed at Oneida, Ill., on Tuesday night. John Burgeson and Erric Linde, in a fit of drunken rage, drove Mrs. Burgeson, the wife of the former, from the house, and in a most cruel manner murdered her son, a boy about five years old, bruising the boy horribly, and fracturing his skull in seven places. Both parties have been committed, and there is much excitement over the deed.

—The bill of Mr. Marsh to make provision for losses incurred by the people of Pennsylvania during the war, commonly known as the border raid bill, is not likely to receive favorable action at this session by the committee on war claims. This is a bad time to press any claim, the cry of "economy" being general and irresistible. In view of the mischief of an unfavorable report the bill is not likely to be pressed at this session.

—The troubles at Brownstown, West Va., are not yet ended, and the negroes have not gone away, as previously reported. Tuesday night the rioters went to the office of contractor Dull and notified him that unless the negroes were sent away the rioters would hang every negro, and himself with them. Dull went to Charleston, asked the aid of the authorities, and with the Sheriff and one hundred citizens returned to Brownstown yesterday afternoon.

—The Postoffice Appropriation bill is nearly ready to report to the House. The saving will be over three millions of dollars. The bill changes the mode of paying postmasters by substituting fees for a salary, and in this way the committee expect to save $750,000 per annum. The committee also propose to pay for transportation of mails by speed and space instead of weight, and to save two millions by the change. It is thought that the railroads will assent to the change.

—Almost complete returns from the Chicago city election show a sweeping victory for the Republican and Municipal Reform ticket. The average majority was over 5,000. Of the successful, Biggs, for City Treasurer, is the only Democrat elected; all the other officers are Republican, and Biggs was on the Reform ticket. Hoyne had no opponent for Mayor. His vote was about 33,000. But few of the new Common Council are elected from what is commonly known as the "bummer crowd."

—On account of the failure of the pool lines to adjust amicably their difficulties, and owing to the disputes which arose in the meeting held at Chicago last week and that held in New York on Tuesday, the railroad pool has been broken. Mr. Joy telegraphed the agent of the Michigan Central, Tuesday to protect the road, which the agent did by taking freight at a reduction of five cents for fourth class to New York. The other roads followed and fourth class freight was taken in some instances as low as thirty cents, or a reduction of ten cents.

—A member of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs says the committee have evidence before it going to show that while Schenck was Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee he received $5,000 and stock for his services in getting a bill passed by the House for the benefit of a Colorado immigration and land scheme. The proof is understood to consist of documentary evidence alleged to be over Schenck's own signature. Gen. Schenck pronounces this a lie, and says he received no money whatever for his services in his capacity of member of Congress, but whatever he received was in pursuance of a contract made with parties in England in relation to the American law.

—A Washington special to the Philadelphia Times says: "A prominent member of Congress says that the President has determined to let the entire crowd of dishonest officials who have disgraced his administration go by the board. He claims that the men have deceived him after appointment to office; that he believed they were honest men, but is determined to tell everything he knows, and let the consequences rest where they may. He will probably be served with a subpœna to appear before the Committee on Whisky Frauds in a few days. The President mortgaged his house at Long Branch to purchase "Big Bonanza mining stock." As soon as the silver bill was passed he unloaded his stock and paid off the mortgage on his house."

—Secretary Bristow yesterday sent a letter to Chairman Caulfield, of the Committee on the Expenditures of the War, setting forth a statement made in a dispatch to the Baltimore Gazette purporting to give the testimony of a witness that he (Bristow), when United States District Attorney at Louisville, had first caused the arrest of several "crooked" whisky dealers, and then was bribed to resign and take up their case, and secure a release of their property. The Secretary brands the story as false in every particular, expresses surprise that the committee did not notify him that such a story had come before them, and demands a prompt hearing. He asks that the records of the Court be examined, and the Judge be called to show that he never had any connection with any such cases.

—The trunk and Western railway lines held a conference on Tuesday at the St. Nicholas Hotel, New York, at which it was agreed—the Pennsylvania, New York Central, Erie, Baltimore & Ohio, Fort Wayne, Michigan Central and Michigan Southern being present—that no change should be made in the rates on Passenger business East or West or on the West-bound freight business, or on the live stock, or on the traffic of the trunk lines, but that the Western lines should make the rates on East-bound freight business, the Eastern roads agreeing to accept the same. This change was caused by the New York Central insisting that their connecting lines should be left free to meet the competition of the Grand Trunk, of Canada, on East-bound business out of Chicago and other Western points.

—$18,000 were collected at the Moody and Sankey meeting yesterday, making the total receipts $143,000. Only $10,000 of this sum was cash—the balance being subscriptions contingent on $200,000 being raised. Strenuous efforts will be made to raise the balance required in a few days. At the final meeting 5,000 persons were unable to get into the Hippodrome and every seat was filled. Mr. Moody spoke chiefly to young converts, taking for his text the word "Able." He concluded as follows: "But now the time has come to say "Good Bye." Let us rather say "Good Night," for morning will soon break and we will meet again in the beautiful dawn, beyond the river of death. We will meet on high when the night is over. Mr. Moody then prayed fervently and eloquently. He was deeply moved as he neared the end, and thousands of those present wept aloud. Mr. Sankey sang a farewell hymn to the air of "Home, Sweet Home," and the services ended. Mr. Moody goes to Florida in a few days.

HOUSE.

Braddocks Prohibitory Law.

Mr. ZERN made a motion to reconsider the vote by which the bill repealing the prohibitory law for Braddocks has been indefinitely postponed.

Mr. CHRISTY opposed it and the motion was defeated by a vote of 59 to 95.

Where is Herdic?

Mr. HAYS, from the Investigating Committee, reported a resolution asking that the House issue its subpoenas for Peter Herdic and Thos. Collins.

After debate it was adopted, and the subpœnas made returnable forthwith at the bar of the House. Mr. Herdic cannot be found, and Collins has disregarded the subpœna of the committee. During the discussion there was much complaint that the committee had not reported, and a motion was made requiring it to report on Monday.

The members of the committee protested, and on motion of Mr. LONG it was laid on the table.

The House took a recess.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The House met in afternoon session at 3 o'clock.

The Centennial Invitation.

Mr. REIGHARD moved to reconsider the vote accepting the invitation to attend the Centennial opening, for the reason that said invitation was not to the members of the Legislature as a body, but to members individually. Agreed to.

Bills Passed Third Reading.

A supplementary act repealing the road laws in Cecil township, Washington county.

An act making an appropriation for the continuance of the geological survey of the State.

An act to repeal an act relating to locating, opening and repairing public roads and highways in Sewickley township, Westmoreland county.

The Tariff Question.

Mr. FAUNCE, from the committee on Federal Relations, to whom was referred the Senate resolution relative to the Morrison Tariff bill, pending in Congress, made the following report. Objections having been made, the report lays over until to-morrow:

Resolved, If the House of Representatives concur, that our Senators in Congress be instructed and our members be requested to vote against and use all honorable means to procure the defeat of any tariff bill in Congress that looks to imposing duties upon tea and coffee.

Resolved, That the necessities of the Government for the honest payment of the interest upon and the principal of the public debt require the imposition of tariff duties upon foreign imports, that the customs duties are the least odious form of taxation upon the people, and that in the adjustment thereof our Senators in Congress are instructed and our members requested to vote for and use all honorable means to secure the imposition of such rates as will protect and save the great manufacturing interests and the raw material production of this Commonwealth, and give to labor steady employment and remunerative wages, and that upon these interests and that production we believe that no reduction upon the present rates should be made by Congress.

Resolved, That the Governor be requested to forward to each of our Representatives and members of Congress a copy of the foregoing resolutions.

Appropriation Bills.

Several appropriation bills were passed finally making appropriations to institutions throughout the State.

An act to provide for the continuance of the education and maintenance of destitute orphans of deceased soldiers, sailors, and destitute children of permanently disabled soldiers and sailors of the State was considered on third reading, and had received 101 votes upon its passage, when a point of order was raised that the bill was unconstitutional.

Pending its consideration the House adjourned.

The Boom Investigation.

Thomas Collins voluntarily appeared this afternoon before the Boom Investigating Committee. He knew nothing whatever of any improper means used in the passage of the Boom bill, and nothing was elicited in his testimony of interest to the public. Swan and Carson were also before the committee. K.

THE REVOLUTION IN MEXICO.

Activity of the Forces in the Field—Mier Taken by Generals Naranjo and Vara.

GALVESTON, April 19.—The News' special from Brownsville says the following is just received from Ringgold, April 18, 9 P. M.: The stage from Monterey, which arrived at Camargo this evening, brings the following, which may be considered reliable: The Government maintains a firm attitude. Quirago, with 500 hundred men, is hunting for Trevino, and it is thought they met at Rumos to-day. General Pedro Martinez is expected in Monterey with 600 cavalry. Generals Avanella and Palacios are en route to the frontier with their respective corps. General Conda entered Monterey on Saturday last with 4,000 infantry from the mountains, with four pieces of cannon and funds to pay the troops. Naranjo will enter Mier to-day with 600 men. General Fuero, commanding the forces at Monterey, does not allow correspondence of any kind from the interior to pass Monterey. All telegraph lines between Monterey and Mexico are in good working order.

RIO GRANDE CITY, April 19, 3 P. M.—Mier was taken yesterday at one P. M., by Naranjo and Vara with four hundred and fifty men. All Custom House officials and employes have gone to Gueirono. The citizens made no resistance, the revolutionists entering without opposition. Naranjo is expected at Camargo this evening. Large forces of Government troops are on the way to the Rio Grande, and some hard fighting may be looked for within a few days.

An Old Man Fatally Injured.

LOUISVILLE, April 19.—David R. Young, for forty years a respected resident of Louisville, was fatally injured here to-day by George W. Levy, Chief of the fire department. Young was crossing a street, and Levy, who was mounted and proceeding as fast as his horse could carry him to a fire, failed to see him in time to stop the horse. Young was knocked senseless, and is not expected to recover. The accident has produced considerable excitement here. Levy was arrested and paroled. Young is seventy years old, and has been cared for since the accident at Levy's expense.

FORTY-FOURTH CONGRESS.

FIRST SESSION.

The Court of Impeachment Adjourned Until the 27th.

The Bill in Regard to Counting the Presidential Vote Again on the Calendar.

WASHINGTON, April 19, 1876.

SENATE.

The galleries were again densely crowded this morning, the ladies predominating. So great indeed was the rush that it became necessary to close some of the doors. Soon after the Senate was called to order the tables and seats for the managers of the impeachment, the accused and counsel were arranged as on Monday.

The Veto Message.

Immediately after the journal of yesterday's proceedings was read the Chair laid before the Senate a message from the President vetoing the act fixing the salary of the President of the United States.

The Impeachment Trial.

Ex-Secretary Belknap and counsel entered at 12:25, and at 12:30 legislative business was suspended to resume the impeachment trial.

The managers having taken their places, Mr. Ford sent to the Secretary's desk and had read the answer adopted by the House of Representatives to the plea of Belknap, to the effect that at the time of the commission of the acts charged Belknap was an officer of the United States, and was such officer until after the House, by its proper committee, had completed an investigation into the charges against him and were preparing for his impeachment. The fact was known to him when he resigned.

Mr. Carpenter, for the accused, asked for a copy of the replication of the House and until Monday next to answer.

Mr. EDMUNDS submitted an order that the respondent file his answer to the replication of the House by the 24th inst., and that the managers file their rejoinder by the 25th, and that the trial proceed on the 27th inst. Agreed to.

After some discussion on the motion of Mr. EDMUNDS it was ordered that the Senate sitting as a court of impeachment adjourn until the 27 inst. at 12:30 P. M.

Tax on Fermented and Malt Liquors.

Legislative business was then resumed, and the House bill to define the tax on fermented and malt liquors was passed.

Before the passage of the above bill it was amended so that nothing in the act shall have the effect to change the present rules of law respecting evidence in any prosecution or suit.

Menomonee Indian Reservation.

Mr. CAMERON (Wis.) called up the Senate bill to authorize a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Wisconsin, to enter upon the Menomonee Indian reservation, and improve the Oconta river and its branches and tributaries. Passed.

The Sioux Reservation.

Mr. MORRILL (Me.) submitted a resolution directing the Secretary of the Interior to communicate to the Senate any information in relation to the present situation and disturbances in the Sioux reservation, and whether military force has been interposed therein, and if so, if it was by authority of the Department of the Interior, and the reason for such interposition. Agreed to.

Counting the Presidential Vote.

Mr. THURMAN called up the motion entered by him several days ago to reconsider the vote by which the bill in regard to counting the votes for President and Vice President was passed. He said he did not think the bill which passed the Senate could pass the House of Representatives, and the result would be that there would be no new law on the subject.

Mr. MORTON spoke at some length as to the necessity of having a new law on this subject, and said since the bill had passed the Senate a circumstance had been discovered that would startle the country when made public.

Mr. BAYARD inquired as to the nature of it.

Mr. MORTON said he would not mention names, but it was a case where a Vice President was counting for President. Being himself a candidate, he counted a false or void return in his own favor. The fact was in possession of one of the Senators from Vermont.

Mr. THURMAN said he had seen it stated in a newspaper that this Vice President, when his attention was called to the fact that the return was false, directed the Clerk to count, and then tore up the paper. That great man never did such a thing. It was no use to conceal the name of the man. It was no less than he whose hand wrote the Declaration of Independence. It was no less a man than Thomas Jefferson. He (Thurman) would wait for the production of evidence, and he ventured to say that when it was produced there would be nothing in it to impugn the integrity of Jefferson.

After further discussion the vote by which the bill was passed was reconsidered—yeas 31, nays 23. The bill was then placed on the calendar.

Mr. MORTON gave notice that he would call it up for consideration to-morrow.

The Silver Bill.

On motion of Mr. SHERMAN, the Silver bill was made unfinished business for to-morrow.

Japanese Indemnity Fund.

Mr. FRELINGHYSEN moved to take up the bill in relation to the Japanese indemnity fund. Agreed to. He submitted an amendment to strike out the clause instructing the President, after correspondence with the Japanese Government, and in a manner satisfactory to it, to transfer said fund, together with its increase, to the Government of Japan in trust, the income thereof to be perpetually used for the education of labor in Japan. Agreed to.

Mr. EDMUNDS moved to strike out the twenty-third section in relation to the payment prize money to officers and crews of the United States vessels Lycoming and Jamestown for the destruction of piratical craft in 1863 and 1864.

Pending the discussion the Senate went into executive session and soon adjourned.

HOUSE.

The Impeachment.

Mr. LORD, Chairman of the impeachment managers, reported a replication to the plea of jurisdiction filed on behalf of Belknap. The replication was adopted, and ordered communicated to the Senate.

Hallet Kilbourn.

The Sergeant-at-Arms reported that he had obeyed the writ of habeas corpus in the Hallet Kilbourn case, and that Kilbourn was ordered by the Judge into the custody of the Marshal.

Real Estate Pool.

Mr. BAKER (Indiana) offered a resolution instructing the Select Committee on the Real Estate Pool to investigate whether any members of a former Congress were connected with that pool while such members. Adopted.

Refunding Our Debt.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE introduced a bill for refunding the interest bearing debt of the United States into United States consols bearing four per cent. gold interest, and having forty years to run. Referred.

Army Reduction.

On motion of Mr. BANNING, the bill for the reduction of the army, which was a special order for to-day, was made a special order for next Wednesday.

Centennial Coins.

Mr. O'BRIEN introduced a bill to provide for the coinage of Centennial coins. Referred. The bill provides for silver dollars and half dollars, one side of the coins to give the corresponding value in coins of other principal commercial nations.

Contested Election.

The House then resumed consideration of the Florida contested election case.

After several speeches the report was adopted—yeas 113, nays 83. J. J. Finley was declared entitled to a seat, and was sworn in, taking the modified oath.

Public Lands.

The House then took up the Senate bill to repeal the act making restrictions in the disposition of public lands in Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas and Florida, confining them to the provisions of the homestead law. No action was taken on the bill.

The Speaker laid before the House various executive documents, including an immense mass of paper done up in half a dozen huge packages, containing responses to a call for information as to shareholders in National banks.

The House then took a recess, the evening session to be for debate on the bill to transfer the Indian Bureau to the War Department.

EVENING SESSION.

The proceedings in the evening session were entirely devoid of public interest. But very few members were present, and the speeches were not confined exclusively to the question of the bill before the House.

SECOND EDITION.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Statement of a Moth Exterminator.

A Contract Procured Through Don Piatt.

MEXICAN OUTRAGES ON AMERICAN CITIZENS.

WASHINGTON, April 19, 1876.

Emma Mine Investigation.

In the Emma Mine investigation to-day ex-Senator Stewart testified that he advised Lyon to send Senator Morton a retaining fee of $1,000, having previously informed the Senator if the suit turned out well he should have larger compensation. After seeing Senator Morton's testimony, and not knowing whether Lyon had complied with his suggestion, he wrote to a Denver bank for information whether the draft had been drawn by Lyon in favor of Senator Morton, and the reply was there was no evidence that such check had been drawn.

War Department Investigation.

The Committee on Expenditures in the War Department to-day heard A. E. Reynolds, of the firm of Lee & Reynolds, post traders at Camp Supply, Indian Territory. Reynolds testified that he secured the appointment through General Hedrick, and paid him $4,500. He never paid a dollar to General Babcock or his brother.

Mr. George W. Brega, of Geo. W. Cowles & Co., read a long statement in regard to their processes for the preservation of tents and clothing for the War Department. General Meigs favored the process, but the Secretary of War opposed it. They had paid nobody to work for them except Col. Donn Piatt, editor of the Washington Capital. He thinks the contract with Piatt was for five per cent. of the gross proceeds of the work. In 1874 Col. Piatt put in a claim against Cowles & Co. for eleven or twelve thousand dollars, but they refused to pay him, on the ground that he had been paid in full for his services. Piatt then threatened to have their work stopped. Piatt had been employed to use his influence with the Secretary of War. On the 19th of July, 1874, the work of Cowles & Co. was stopped through Piatt's efforts. Witness went to see the Secretary of War and asked for a copy of the charges against the company. The Secretary gave him no satisfaction, and said he would be d——d if he would gratify his request. Witness went to Long Branch to see the President. He was not acquainted with either the President or General Babcock. He saw Babcock and told his story. Witness was told that there must be some mistake, that the Secretary of War would be there in a few days, and that he had better wait till General Belknap came before going to see the President. Witness did wait, and a few days after received a copy of the charges through General Babcock. The amount of money paid to the company was about $400,000. The company put in an answer to the charges.

Mexican Outrages on Americans.

James J. Haynes, United States Commercial Agent, telegraphed to the State Department from New Laredo, Mexico, under date of April 16, that the revolutionists levied a forced loan on merchants, and say if not paid by the 17th the stores will be forced open and goods sold to double the amount demanded. The amount is divided between ten merchants, five of them American. The Secretary of War directs that orders be given to the Department Commander to grant the protection asked to American citizens in Laredo against such lawless outrages as the Government of Mexico is unable to prevent, but wishes caution to be exercised.

The Kilbourn Case.

In the Kilbourn case to-day Judge Carter stated that he wished to hear the question of the jurisdiction of the House of Representatives fully argued, and refused to entertain a motion to admit Kilbourn to bail at this time. The arguments will probably last several days.

FOREIGN ADVICES.

HAYTI.

Success of the Revolution.

NEW YORK, April 19.—The Haytien Consulate here has received cable advices from Kingston that the revolution in Hayti is triumphant. Domingue, the late President, has fled. Vice President Rameau and Lorquet, the General in command of the Government forces, have been shot. Biron Canal, who was exiled from the country, is now in Port au Prince, and it is presumed will take charge of the Government.

TURKEY.

Notice to the Porte.

VIENNA, April 19.—The three northern European powers have intimated to the Porte that if a massacre should follow the arming of the Mohamedan population, a military expedition, composed of Austrian and Russian troops, in Turkish territory, will certainly be undertaken.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Business Failures.

GLASGOW, April 19.—Brodie & Harper, David Geddes & Co., and Leitch & Co., all connected with the grain trade, have failed. Brodie & Harper's liabilities are five hundred thousand dollars. The liabilities of the other firms are unknown.

THE MISSISSIPPI FLOOD.

A Crevasse at Delhi—Plantations Overflowed—A Break at Point Lookout.

MEMPHIS, April 19.—The crevasse at Delhi on Monday night caused great alarm at Fryar's Point, and all the citizens of that point turned out en masse to try to repair the break, which is reported one hundred yards wide and the water pouring through with fearful force at last accounts, and overflowing plantations at Moon Lake, and will find its outlet through the Cold Water and Talahatchee rivers.

NEW ORLEANS, April 19.—The Times' report says: What is known as the Bass Levee at Point Lookout, in Carroll parish, is broken. This is the largest protection levee in the State of Louisiana. The break there is a mile wide, and the waters are flowing through without making a riffle. The loss there is tremendous, and it is estimated it will reduce the crop sent to this city 250,000 bales. On the Mississippi side the Buck ridge and Wade breaks will devastate Bolivar, Jaquena and Warren counties, and will be equally as large on the opposite side.

THE INDIAN SITUATION.

A General War Improbable—The Ogallallas Peaceably Inclined Since the Thrashing Given Crazy Horse—Miners Killed Near the Black Hills.

OMAHA, April 19.—An official telegram to General Cook from Fort Laramie, yesterday, conveys the information that no Indians have left the Red Cloud or Spotted Tail Agencies with their families since the fight with Crazy Horse on Powder river. A few men went out to bring in their own people, and some of them have returned, accompanied by northern Sioux. The Cheyennes at Red Cloud are alarmed and talk of going south. The indications are that the thrashing given Crazy Horse has affected the Ogallallas so favorably that they will likely keep quiet. Major Jordan is of the opinion that three hundred Ogallallas would go with an expedition against the northern Indians if they were allowed to keep what they captured. The northern Sioux have stolen their stock lately. The Indians at the agencies are remarkably docile. A few miners have been killed near the Black Hills lately.

Discovery of a New Planet.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., April 19.—Prof. Watson reports that he discovered, first on the night of the 16th instant, in the constellation Virgo, a planet hitherto unknown, the continued observation of which was interrupted by clouds. Last night he observed it satisfactorily. It shines like a star of the eleventh magnitude. Its position is right ascension thirteen hours twenty-nine minutes, and declination eleven degrees forty-seven minutes south. The motion is retrograde one minute daily in right ascension, and north two minutes daily in declination.

A "Crooked" Ex-Official Caught.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo, April 19.—Chas. B. Wilkinson, ex-Collector of Internal Revenue at St. Joseph, Mo., who was recently arrested at San Francisco on his return from Australia, and against whom there are three indictments for violating the revenue laws and complicity in whisky frauds, arrived here to-day in charge of Col. H. Pennegess, of the United States Secret Service, California district. He will be arraigned on Saturday.

Dom Pedro's Western Tour.

CHICAGO, April 19.—Dom Pedro, Emperor of Brazil, with his suite passed through here this morning, en route to California. He made no stay whatever, and received no special demonstration.

THE DEMOCRACY OF INDIANA.

Their State Convention—A Breezy Time Among the Faithful—Williams for Governor—Hendricks for President—The "Tall Sycamore" Nowhere.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 19.—The Democratic State Convention was called to order at 10:20 by Gen. Manson, Chairman of the State Committee, and after prayer, was organized with the Hon. Thos. R. Cobb, of Knox, as permanent chairman. The Committee on Resolutions not being ready to report when called, an attempt was made to proceed with a ballot for a candidate for Governor—Hon. Wm. S. Holman, Hon. Franklin Landers and Judge Niblack being before the Convention.

Mr. Landers appeared in the gallery and demanded that his name be withdrawn, for the reason that he had from the first intended, and did now intend, that his name and Judge Holman's should not be before the convention at the same time. This was met with cries of "no, no," from all parts of the house, and much confusion existed for some time. At this point the name of Hon. D. W. Vorhees was presented as a compromise candidate, and an attempt was made to call the roll, but it was found impossible to do so.

The Committee on Resolutions was therefore allowed to report, when another attempt at a ballot was made, confusion and excitement still prevailing. Holman and Landers were again nominated and again withdrawn. Landers appeared in person again, and peremptorily demanded that his name be withdrawn. James D. Williams, of Knox county, was here offered as a compromise candidate, and an attempt to nominate him by acclamation was made, but the Convention would not allow a vote. Gen. M. D. Manson's name was now offered. The Chairman ordered the roll called for a ballot, when Landers was again placed in nomination, it being understood that Mr. Holman's name was positively withdrawn. The wildest excitement here prevailed, motions of all kinds being made, and the Chair, being unable to control the Convention, ordered the band on the stage to play, after which a ballot was commenced, the delegates voting according to their preference, and not regarding the withdrawals. The result was as follows: Holman 916, Landers 898, Manson 23, Williams 28—no choice, 950 being necessary.

Mr. Landers appeared again, demanding to be heard and persisting against his name being used, when votes were being cast for Mr. Holman. The Chair here announced that Holman and Landers were both withdrawn, and ordered a ballot with Williams as the only name before the Convention. Toward the close, it being apparent that Williams had the nomination, many counties changed to him who had before voted for Landers. Marion county then moved that Mr. Williams be declared the unanimous choice of the Convention for Governor, which was carried without the result of the second ballot being announced.

The following is the ticket nominated: Governor, James D. Williams; Lieutenant Governor, Isaac P. Grey; Judges of Supreme Court—First District, S. H. Buskirk; Second District, A. G. Downey; Third District, John Pettit; Fourth District, Jas. L. Worden; Secretary of State, John E. Neff; Auditor of State, E. Henderson; Treasurer of State, Benj. C. Shaw; Attorney General, C. A. Buskirk; Superintendent of Public Instruction, J. H. Smart; Clerk of Supreme Court, Gabriel Schmuck; Reporter of Supreme Court, Augustus N. Martin.

The platform is an exceedingly lengthy one. Its main utterances are in favor of civil service reform; the retiracy of National bank notes and the substitution of United States circulating notes; gradual return to specie payments; repeal of legislation retiring legal tenders, to substitute National bank notes; repeal of the resumption act; no division of the school fund; enactment of a properly guarded license law; payment of soldiers' pensions and bounties; curtailment of jurisdiction of Federal Courts in civil cases; against the payment of the rebel debt or war claims; against officers of the Government contributing for election expenses; and, finally, unanimously endorsing "Indiana's favorite son"—Thomas A. Hendricks—for the Democratic Presidential nomination.

Mississippi Levee Convention.

NEW ORLEANS, April 19.—A convention of parishes of States subject to overflow from breaks and crevasses in the Mississippi, called by an executive committee appointed at the convention of last year to meet here, met to-day. The object of the convention is to enlist the aid of Congress in making the coast levees a national work, and also to get Congress to take hold of the subject as one affecting in solido all river States.

—In his message vetoing the bill to reduce the President's salary, the President says that in refusing his sanction to the bill he cannot be accused of personal interest, as it does not affect him in any way. He says the salary of President was fixed at $25,000 per annum, just after the Revolutionary war, when we had only 3,000,000 of population, and were poor. At that time members of Congress got but $6 per day for actual service rendered, and served on an average 120 days a year, making $720 salary per annum. Now they receive more than $30 per day for each day of service rendered, allowing five months session each year. The President intimates that with this increase in the salaries of Congressmen, the President's salary at $50,000 is not by any means out of proportion. He says that we now have forty millions of people, instead of three, when the salary was fixed at $25,000, with wealth largely increased, and the cost of living vastly out of proportion to what it was then. The veto says that the President knows, from his experience, that the salary of $25.000 is inadequate for the expenses of living at the White House.

—The discussion between the United States Government and the British Government relative to the extradition of Winslow is approaching an end, and there is no prospect of an amicable solution of the difficulty. It is supposed that Mr. Fish's last note will be received in England in a day or two. Meantime, dispatches have reached here by the last steamer indicating clearly that the British Government will not surrender Winslow unless the United States shall expressly stipulate that he is not to be tried for any other offence than the one specified in the requisition of this government. The tone and temper of the response of England is firm, and it is not likely to be modified. The American Government will not make the pledge required. Both governments appeal to the treaty of 1842 in support of their respective positions. The result will be that, after sixty days, Winslow will be liberated by taking out a writ of habeas corpus, and the extradition clause of the treaty will fall to the ground.

—A Paris telegram states that the Bourse was convulsed at the close Tuesday by the news that 7,000 Montenegrins had joined the insurgents in Turkey.

THURSDAY, APRIL 20, 1876.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 29⅞f.

BONDS at Frankfort, new 5s, 101½.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 112⅞.

REPRESENTATIVE ZERN shows a determination to repeal all prohibitory laws in the State, even those of local bearing. He attempted, yesterday, to call up the vote whereby the bill repealing the prohibitory law at Braddocks was lost. His motion, we are glad to say, failed.

THE Boom bill scandal shows enough of life yet to maintain interest at Harrisburg. Ex-Senator BECK testified that LYNOTT offered to commit perjury for $1,000, and positively denied all he had testified concerning him. In the meantime, LYNOTT has run off, not caring, evidently, to face the revelations sure to be made concerning him.

THE course of the workingmen, in refusing to form a political organization, is in every way commendable. They can more effectually accomplish any reasonable measure by working through the regular party organizations, and do not need a separate party. Where they have not commendable projects, they will be defeated anyhow.

WE do not just understand in what spirit or for what purpose the effort is being made to have the charter of the Connellsville railroad repealed. It is certainly not in the interest of our city that this should be done, as that road, with its connections, is developing a steadily increasing importance to our city, which we would greatly regret to see impaired. We have not so many railroads centering here that we need to fight any.

WHATEVER may have been the personal result of the discussion between BLAINE and TUCKER, of Virginia, the political issue issue is largely in BLAINE's favor. TUCKER's extreme State Rights view,—the same as before the war, including the right of cross-roads postmasters to throw aside papers, that arrive in the mails will hardly prove acceptable, in these days, even to the average Democrat. As one paper puts it, TUCKER drove one more nail into the Democratic coffin.

IT is entirely probable that the struggle over the elections in Chicago has resulted in the overthrow of the bummer element, and the substitution of good citizens in Councils. The mayoralty will, apparently, be the subject of legal contest, owing to the new charter, and the uncertainties as to the tenure of office of old officials under it. The success of the respectable element, as against the bummers, is evidence of a fact that we have long held, that this can be done in any city, where the proper combinations are formed.

THE replication of the House managers to the plea made in by BELKNAP's counsel, was put in yesterday. It simply states that he was an officer of the Government until after the House Committee began to investigate the charges against him, and then resigned to avoid the result. So much said, and orders were adopted that the reply of the defendant, and that of the House to this reply, be filed, and that the Senate proceed with the trial on the 27th inst. Thus the forms are complied with without occupying further time of the Senate.

THE Philadelphia North American is disposed to brighten up and appear lively this centennial year. It has dropped, in its main heading a part of its name, but retains all its old name in its old headings. It has renewed its type, or "dress," as newspaper men call it, and even employs gay and fanciful headings, to show how youthful and spry it can be. It has, however, all its old solidity and strength, and ranks, for clear thought and able reasoning, among the best in our list of exchanges. We wish it many continued years of prosperity.

THE impression, so studiously sought to be made, that the Mayor dallied with the cases of those who were brought before him on the charge of impure entertainment, for the sake of securing large costs, does not seem to be justified by the facts. We do not see that he prevented the show, and do not know whether he had power to summarily break it up; but he worried them to an extent that will probably prevent the coming to this city of a similar troupe for a long time to come. We were not greatly impressed with the vigor of the Mayor, but it does not appear that his motives were simply selfish.

THE Pennsylvania Railroad is made the first recipient of the howl over rates of reaching the Centennial. It has made a reduction which, all things considered, is reasonable, and now the demand is for greater reduction. We have not yet heard of the demand that the Centennial should fix the price of admission at twenty-five cents, just for the sake of the poor, and in order to secure a larger and better paying attendance, but that is sure to come. The railroad authorities look at this subject in the light of business, and having paid out about $1,000,000 on account of the Centennial, propose to get their money back. They have made a reasonable concession, and are right in not heeding the clamor put up.

WE have at last the beginning of specie payments, silver being paid out for currency yesterday, in sums of five dollars. The radical hard money people, who years ago bemoaned the fact that the bright face of silver currency had given way to the ragged fractional currency, now call the new currency "tokens." They are anxious for gold, and regard silver with as much disfavor as they, in the years agone, regarded currency. We suppose it will be difficult to please those gentry, but in the meantime silver will be familiarized to the people once more. As an economy to the Government the new arrangement is very well, while the standard value of silver makes the so called tokens to be of real value, in precisely the same sense that gold has a real value.

IF ANY supposed that the project to adjourn the Legislature sine die on the 5th of May would prevent the hungry and thirsty worthies who compose the majority of that remarkable body from enjoying the Philadelphia jamboree, they are relieved from that unworthy supposition. It is not so sure, indeed, that the resolution to adjourn will be adhered to, and but for the agreement to accept the invitation to Philadelphia, the adjournment would not have taken place at the time named. We imagine the good time to be enjoyed will reconcile our worthies to the loss of fifty dollars for the five days' service lost; and the State will be grateful that the session is ended. We fancy, after the experience of the present session, we need have no fear of another combination such as we have had.

THERE is a very natural desire, among those who wish for BLAINE's defeat, that he should have the rumors started against him "investigated." When the Credit Mobilier reports were first current, Speaker BLAINE forced the investigation. It is intimated that the party responsible for existing reports knew then all he knows now, and yet he did not appear to give his evidence. Then was the time for a clear, outspoken declaration. To take Mr. BLAINE under investigation now, no matter how innocent he may be, will be to hold him under a cloud till his Presidential prospects are ruined. This is what this call for an investigation means, and those who urge it are decidedly unfriendly to BLAINE. He certainly has a right to a fair chance in the Presidential race, be the result what it may.

A CORRESPONDENT writes as follows:

"It is known to the voters of Wilkins township that Wilkinsburg, formerly a part of Wilkins township, was made a part of the city of Pittsburgh, called the Thirty-seventh ward. Wilkinsburg has since been remanded territorially to Wilkins township by judicial decision. The question arises, does Wilkinsburg belong to the fifth legislative district or does it not? Article 2d Section 16 of the new Constitution says that, "no ward, borough, or township shall be divided in the formation of a district." If Wilkinsburg does not belong to the fifth district, has not Wilkins township been divided in the present formation of the fifth district?"

Our correspondent seems to assume that while Wilkins township presumably belonged to the city, and was so recognized till otherwise determined by judicial investigation, it really and legally belonged to Wilkins township. It was put in the fifth district when presumably in the city, and if not changed, it is probably negligence or oversight. As we understand it, it really belongs to the district to which Wilkins township belongs.

THE President has promptly rebuked the cheap economy of Congress by vetoing the bill reducing the salary of the President of the United States. He was certainly actuated by no selfish motive in this, as his veto is in the interest of his successor in office. But it is well known that the salary as now fixed is not more than it should be. There is a widespread feeling of disgust through the country, over the effort at cheap notoriety displayed by Congress by reducing salaries of officials. No Government official receives too much salary, if he honestly and faithfully performs the duties of his position. The Senate broke away from its usual custom, when it introduced the measure, reducing the President's salary; and we are gratified that it is rebuked. What the people do expect of Congress is to stop the leaks, and reduce expenses at points where outlays are unnecessary and extravagant. These, in the several departments of the Government, represent an appreciable amount of money. But to economize by reducing salaries is trifling and contemptible.

OUR import trade, as represented at New York, is in what may may be termed a healthy state,—that is, our imports have steadily declined for three years past. The New York Journal of Commerce prints a statement of the imports of dry goods during the first three months of 1876, as compared with a similar statement for 1875, 1874 and 1873. The exhibit shows a remarkably constant decrease since 1873, not only in the amounts entered for warehousing, but also for consumption. The only exception to this decrease is the year 1875, when trade revived a little, but the heavy fall in the first three months of the present year has more than counterbalanced the revival of last year. In 1873 there were entered for consumption, manufactures of wool, cotton, silk, flax and miscellaneous goods to the value of $30,381,352; in 1874, $24,790,090; in 1875, $25,711,476; and in 1876, $21,560,751. During the same portion of the year in 1873, there were withdrawn from warehouses, goods of the same kind valued at $14,746,603; in 1874, $11,529,715; in 1875, $10,339,314, and in 1876, $8,628,437. The total entered for consumption, as well as for warehousing, during the first quarter in 1873 was $44,593,670; in 1874, $34,916,591; in 1875, $35,008,832; in 1876, $30,757,370. It will thus be seen that the value of goods placed on the market thus far in 1876 has been $5,681,602 less than during the same time in 1875. This, with the increasing export trade, is a healthy sign of the times.

THE recognition of the power and right of the courts to issue the writ of habeas corpus, by the House, is an event of no ordinary importance. The lines of demarcation, between judicial and legislative authority have been partially obscured already, and had the power of the courts in this case been unrecognized, we would have had a dangerous precedent established. Grave constitutional questions are involved in cases like this, and the last session of Congress took the proper course to free it from difficulties, by providing that a person, refusing to answer a committee of Congress, regularly appointed and empowered shall be prosecuted in the courts. This recognizes the province of the courts, and involves the right on their part, to interfere by the writ of habeas corpus, to release persons unlawfully deprived of their liberty, even by Congress itself. Speaker KERR interpreted this law as not curtailing the power of Congress to also imprison recalcitrant witnesses. Whether a law-making, can also be a law-interpreting body, and also the executive of the laws, it has both made and interpreted is hardly an open question. The object in dividing our Government into three departments, and defining the powers of each, was to prevent any one department from assuming the powers of any other department. The greatest danger the Republic has is such an usurpation of authority. Yet any one department has just as much right as any other to commit acts of usurpation. Congress, in this KILBOURN case, has really usurped the powers of both the other departments of the Government,—the judicial in assuming to interpret law, and the executive, in punishing by imprisonment. Yet the case, in itself, involves other Constitutional issues. The refusal for which he is punished was to produce private books, when thus far, no evidence has been produced to show that those books contain evidence inculpating any Government official. The right of freedom, and from search and seizure, except in case of crime, was violated in his case. The measures were high-handed and unconstitutional, and hence it is the more gratifying that the House has yielded, in so far as to answer court, under the writ. It stands on dangerous grounds, and the sooner it abandons its position the better.

FREIGHT DISCRIMINATIONS.

The delegation that visited Washington in behalf of the equitable regulation of freights, appeared before the Committee of Commerce and stated their case very fully. The addresses were made by J. VANNOTE, on behalf of the Pittsburgh delegation, Mr. OHLEN, of New York, ROCKAFELLER, of Cleveland, and PATTERSON, of Titusville. It was felt to be a misfortune that our iron manufacturers were not represented. A movement that represents but few interests, and toward which our most prominent manufacturers show but a clandestine favor, cannot amount to very much. The scope of the effort does not seem to be at all comprehended, and hence it has not the support it should receive. It is really a plan to revolutionize the system of freight charges, whereby every town and city will receive its proper advantage, and the railroads have a regular income, fully equal to what they now have, and be freed in large measure from the temptation to enter into controversies and fights. At the present they strain every nerve to so arrange the business of the country as that they may pool their earnings, and, in doing this, observe the law of self-preservation. The operation of this rule is to throw cities and localities out of their proper relation to each other, in order that the several railroad interests may be served and protected. There is a certain necessity in all this, as matters now go. Competition, with them, involves the necessity of a fair distribution of business, in order that they may pay interest on their capital. Hence, not only are prices agreed upon, but the business itself is pooled, all the roads taking their share of the proceeds of the business, whether they earn it or not.

The difficulty of a law to remedy the trouble occurs, as we see it, just at this point. The delegation at Washington found this trouble with the bill before the committee. Mr. HOPKINS feels confident that the bill will fully meet all constitutional requirements, but the majority of those present were of the opinion that the bill, as it stood, rather sanctioned than prevented discriminations. This, however, was remedied. Another feature of the bill,—which prevents discriminations from seaports to any point within a State, will also, in our judgment, prove inoperative. Philadelphia is a seaport; and the oil interest is, so far as the production of crude oil is concerned, largely confined to this State. To attempt by Congressional enactment, to regulate commerce within this State, by the use of a set of phrases, will not, in our judgment, prove successful. Another difficulty arises, in dealing with a number of roads, all of which may compete for a given business. A law may be enacted abolishing discriminations by any one road; but can it be made to apply to several competing roads? For example, the New York Central and Lake Shore roads supply the Cleveland oil refineries. The Allegheny Valley Road carries our crude oil, and the Pennsylvania our refined oil to the seaboard. Can a law be enacted that will compel the roads which supply the Cleveland refineries to charge the same rates as the roads which supply the Pittsburgh refineries? If not, the same evil that now exists will continue under a law providing against discriminations. We do not, for a moment, suppose that Congress can pass a law to prevent railroads from competing with each other; and hence it is well to look in the face the question whether the legislation asked for will correct the evil complained of, so far as the oil trade is concerned. We have serious doubts on the subject; and yet we claim, as we have done, that Pittsburgh is injured by the railroads, and the wrong should be remedied. The trouble is to apply a remedy. The committee at Washington suggested an investigation.

With other than oil interests the case is different. To them, a bill regulating discriminations in freight will apply. But our principal interests, most largely affected in this department, sent forward no representatives, and if active at all in the question, are so secretly. We do not comprehend just why the interests that are least likely to be benefited should fight a hard battle in behalf of those who either have not the nerve, or dare not struggle for themseves. Our oil interests can, we suppose, readily combine with what is termed the combination; and thus consolidate the oil trade, and control production, the refining and export of oil. We do not know the plans or terms offered, but it is freely stated that a basis of consolidation exists. It is also stated that the price of oil in Europe can be advanced nearly one hundred per cent. over present rates, and it will still be the cheapest light in Europe. Such being the fact, it follows that a combination of all the oil men would be able to put up the prices, and even were the railroads better paid than they now are, the refiners and producers would also be more largely paid, and the country at large would be richer by more than $25,000,000 yearly from this branch of export trade. Yet in the face of these facts, our oil refiners are making a contest in behalf of a general principle, which benefits others far more than themselves, and those most largely benefitted do not openly support their efforts. We have dealt frankly with this subject heretofore, and do so now. And in this view we confess we do not see the strong reason for those slightly interested to fight the battles for those who, while largely interested, decline to come to the fore front. The GAZETTE will be ever alive to the interests of Pittsburgh, but we want to see a little self-help and independence shown.

THE MAY MAGAZINES.

Harper's comes first this month. It is a splendid number, very richly illustrated. The chief articles are, "The Wheeler Explorations in Southern Colorado" which is full of the breezy freshness of the land; "The Microscope" third paper, by Dr. Samuel Lockwood. The "Romance of the Hudson," second paper, which has a fragrance of revolutionary times; Modern Dwellings—Their Construction, Decoration and Furniture" which is full of sensible hints; and "Old Philadelphia" by Rebecca Harding Davis. The serials are all continued, and there is a choice variety in poetry.

The Popular Science Monthly contains twelve articles, covering an extended field of scientific thought. Among the most interesting articles are: "Society an Organism," by Herbert Spencer; "Hammers and Percussion," by the Rev. Arthur Rigg, M. A., (illustrated); "Prepossessions for and against the Supernatural," a criticism of Dr. Carpenter, by James McCosh, LL. D.; "Lectures in Electricity," by John Tyndall, F. R. S. II., (illustrated); "Recent Geographical Progress," by Chief Justice Daly; "The Mollusks of the Rocky Mountains," by Ernest Ingersoll; "Recent Advances in Telegraphy," by R. Riordan, (illustrated); "Conscience in Animals," by G. J. Romanes, M. A., F. L. S. The editorial notes this month are unusually rich and entertaining, and the whole number is an exceptionally fine one.

Lippincott continues its interesting serial on "The Century, its fruits and festivals." It also has an illustrated article on "Glimpses of Constantinople," which is quite interesting; "Berlin and Vienna" will repay perusal. "An Old House and its Story" gives us some interesting and heretofore unpublished facts concerning Benedict Arnold. There is a well-written article on George Ticknor, by F. S. Perry, anecdotical as well as critical. The number contains also poems by Sidney Lanier, Emma Lazarus, and Margaret Preston, and many good things in the "Monthly Gossip."

Scribner's keep up the reputation with the May number. The first article is a "Portraiture of Wm. Penn;" it is finely illustrated and gives many entertaining Centennial reminiscence. "Bowdoin College" comes in this month in the list of American colleges described, and there is sandwiched into the article anecdotes of Hawthorne, Longfellow and others known to fame. "Hearing with the Eyes" is an illustrated philosophical article. "John Gutenberg" tells a great deal about printing. The "Revolutionary Letters" are concluded, and there are several small poems of worth. The Editorial Departments are up to the standard.

The Record of the Year. Carleton's new magazine for May, edited by Frank Moore, opens up well. The frontispiece of this number is a fine steel portrait of Mr. Moody, one of the best we have seen. The Record is filled with a very choice collection of clippings, making it valuable either for reference or to while away an idle hour.

St. Nicholas for May is hardly as good as some of its predecessors, but the juveniles will find an abundance of entertainment in it to make them wish it came oftener.

The Galaxy is not behind the most brilliant of its contemporaries. It has several notable articles exclusive of the usual run of poetry and minor notes. In "A Plea for a Patriot," Marcus A. Casey sets forth strongly the services rendered by Thomas Paine to the cause of American independence, and to that of freedom throughout the earth by his remarkable political writings. Gen. Custer's "War Memoirs," in this number, are devoted to a consideration of the effects of the first disaster at Bull Run. In "Seeking a Lost Art," Mr. Richard Grant White, who is a musician as well as a philologist, discusses pleasantly the mode by which the great Italian violinmakers varnished their instruments, and his fruitless experiments in imitation of them. All the serials are continued. The editorial notes for the month are also fresh and piquant, and altogether it is as attractive as the month of blossoms which it commemorates.

Maryland Peach Crop.

The winter weather proved a gay deceiver to the peach trees of Maryland. It gently led the sap from the roots into the trunk and limbs, and formed buds upon which the bleak winds of March poured their chilling breath. They were blasted and done for. The predicted result is that the peach crop in the Maryland peninsula will only be a fourth of the average. Last year the crop was "fatally abundant." There was no profit in it, and the prospect for this year is so slim that the Maryland people are quite discouraged.

ATLANTA Constitution: The following was found in the pocket of a certain editor, on his return from a visit in a certain city in Georgia. His wife has called upon him to "rise and explain:'.

You kissed me and you knew it was wrong,
For we are neither kith nor kin.
Need one do penance, very long,
For such a tiny little sin?

You pressed my hand that wasn't right!
Why will men have such wicked ways?
'Twas not for a minute quite,
But in it, there are days and days.

Yet after all, I'm not to blame!
You took the kiss. I do think men
Are quite without the sense of shame,
I wonder when you'll come again.

THE BIBLE IN THE SCHOOLS.

A Letter from Thurlow Weed—The "Beauties of the Bible" Read in Old Time Schools.

Thurlow Weed writes to the editor of the New York Tribune, under date of April 15, the following interesting letter.

Sir: While the question of excluding the Bible from our public schools is attracting so much attention in so many of our States, I cannot withold an expression of surprise that one of the most valuable class-books ever published has been permitted to drop out of the schools. Indeed this precious volume is not only wholly unknown to the present generation, but has, I fear, faded out of the memory of most of our "oldest inhabitants." More than half a century ago the "Beauties of the Bible," like the "English Reader," and "American Preceptor," was found in all well regulated families, and was held to be as indispensable in all school reading classes as Webster's Spelling-book. The book is just what its title indicates and and expresses, "Beauties of the Bible." The selections from the Old and New Testament were made by an eminent divine with discrimination and taste, and were admirably adapted to the objects contemplated. Those objects, as appears on its title page, were "designed for the use of Christians in general, and particularly for the use of schools and for the improvement of youth." The selections were properly arranged for convenient use by classes in schools, each pupil reading a paragraph. In this way the lessons impressed themselves upon the memory and the hearts of children. The Bible presented in this form became very attractive. After a lapse of more than 70 years I retain a vivid recollection of the "History of Creation," the "Meeting of Jacob and Esau," the story of Joseph," a "Young Shepherd and a Giant," the "Friendship of David and Jonathan," "Select Proverbs of Solomon," the "Birth and Childhood of our Savior," "Christ's Sermon on the Mountain," the "Prodigal Son," the Good Samaritan," the "Rich Man and the Beggar." "Paul's Speech before Agrippa,' Paul's Voyage and Shipwreck," etc., as they were read in our then primitive schools.

The "Beauties of the Bible," of which the Rev. Ezra Samson of Hudson is the author, was first published in 1800, and contains 282 pages. If this book should be restored to our schools, the best parts of Scripture would constitute an important branch of common school education. Our children while learning to read, would become imbued with the spirit of Christianity. The present seems a fitting occasion to call the attention of educational boards and the clergy to his book. If, simultaneously with the great uprising of the people under the eloquent gospel appeals of Mr. Moody and the tranquilizing harmonies of Mr. Sankey, the "Beauties of the Bible" should be introduced as a class-book in our common schools, thousands upon thousands of grateful children will rise up to thank those who conferred this blessing upon them."

MOODY'S SUCCESS.

The Hidden Springs of His Power.

It is a little difficult to explain or analyze the success of these Evangelists. John Adams used to say that no one thing gave Washington such power over the multitude as the fact that he served from the beginning without pay. No doubt, the knowledge of the masses that these preachers have no stipend increases enormously their influence, though they would have been equally worthy of respect had they received a regular salary. Then their style of preaching in England (where it is much more uncommon,) and their great success there, prepared the way for them here. They started in New York with a great eclat. They are men also, of unusual moderation and practical shrewdness; and have wisely steered free of all the sectarian rocks and quicksands which have wrecked so many similar efforts. They possess, too, the graces of simplicity and humility, and Mr. Moody disarms criticism by his utterly unpretending and sincere tone and manner. Certainly among her preachers America possesses hundreds of greater power and eloquence, and equal spirituality and piety. We rather incline to the explanation which Mr. Moody himself always offers, that he is only the mouthpiece and expression of a deep and mysterious wave of religious feeling, now passing over the nation. The disasters and disappointments of the year, the reaction against the skepticism and selfish greed of the day, the deep religious sentiment lying at the bottom of the American character, and the eternal wants of the human heart, have prepared the minds of the people for a profound religious transformation, or impulse. When Mr. Moody speaks, it is not himself alone to whom the audience listens, but the whole voice and power of Christianity itself behind him, offering the hope whose beauty time never obscures, the forgiveness which humanity never ceases to desire, the ideals of moral and religious life whose force and excellence the succession of ages only strengthens. It is not so much what the preacher says, as what the audience feels. The people lose sight of the ungrammatical and plain speaker and, even of his narrow conceptions, and hear the echo of the voice, still sounding through the centuries, of Him who spake as never man spake. Under that voice, they rise to a new life.—New York Times.

Longfellow at Bowdoin.

Longfellow entered college at the beginning of the Sophomore year, and was at once prominent in his class for his finished recitations, genial and gentle manners, refined tastes and exquisite poetic gift,—for some of his sweetest short productions were written and published while he was in college. One of the class recalls a poetical composition of Longfellow's on the Seasons, in which the poet's tender and graceful imagination finds full play. After fifty years the classmate remembers the lines:

"Summer is past, and autumn, hoary sire,
Leans on the breast of winter to expire."

There was a musical club in college of which Longfellow was a member. His instrument, very appropriately, was the flute. One can but fancy that the echoes of that "concord of sweet sounds" have floated down to us, blending with the harmonious measure of his verse.

The Commencement-programme of 1825 contains this announcement:

"Oration: Native writers.
Henry Wadsworth Longfellow,
Portland."

The original subject was "The Life and Writings of Chatterton," but that title is erased, and "Native Writers" substituted in Professor Cleaveland's handwriting. When he selected that first subject did the young poet dream of those golden days when his successors would discourse of the life and writings of Longfellow, and his fame, like Dante's, be "blown about from all the heights, through all the nations?" After Longfellow's name in the triennial catalogue are recorded the degrees he has received from Bowdoin, Harvard, Cambridge, and Oxford Universities, together with the list of his professorships, and titles of membership in certain historical societies.—Scribner for May.

May Baskets.

I suppose the children of the red schoolhouse will be bringing May baskets to the little school ma'am and to each other this year as they did last season. It's a pretty custom, but the birds tell me it is not so common as it should be. A May basket is the sweetest and freshest thing I know of, always excepting the little school ma'am. Sometimes it is hardly more than a tiny white paper box with ribbon handles, filled with violets, but it is always lovely, with its white or blue ribbon streamers, and its moss and early white flowers. I hope all little lame children, who can't go out and play, and children in hospitals, will have May baskets sent them this year. May baskets are such simple little things, they can be made and filled in any way one pleases—and, what is more, they grow like a flower, right out of loving hearts!—"Jack-in-the-Pulpit," St. Nicholas for May.

"Pull Down Your Vest."

"You keep vests, mine frient?" said a Dutchman, entering a Fulton clothing-store the other day. The clerk promptly averred that the store was crammed with them.

"I vant a vest," said the Teuton, "vat don't rise up on his hint legs mit the neck. I bought one in Syracus not long ago mit a two dollar bill, and by shimminy I don't notice dot myself, but everywhere I go the boys gry out mit der streets: 'Yacub, vy in der name of der board of drusdees don't you pull down your vest down?' and, py dam, I have pulled dot vest mor'n dree dousand dimes, till I wore all the pindings off mit der puttons!

The clerk explained the joke and sold him a vest, and the old man went out with the exclamation: "Py shimminy, I don't hear somedings about dot in Shermany before."

WHEN a Norristown woman asked her husband for two dollars to buy a calico dress, he slipped a paper out of his coat-tail pocket and pointed to an editorial which clearly showed that female extravagance was the ruination of some of our best men, and even the country itself was being demoralized from the same cause. Then he gave her ten cents to buy hair pins, lit a ten-cent cigar, and left the house,—and lost three dollars playing billiards before he returned home.—Norristown Herald.

THE DREAMER AND THE SUNBEAM.

A little sunbeam stayed into his room
And nestled on the paper, as his pen
Traced wearily the word "Sometime." The gloom
Which shrouded his sad fancy there and then
Drifted away,
Like melting mist before the god of day.

Just like a crown of gold the little beam
Circled the world—so little meaning! and
Within the golden space he saw the gleam
Of snow-white fingers and a dimpled hand,
Which seemed to write
Mysterious letters on this spot of light.

Circled still the little word "Sometime,"
The fair hand softly moved, until the same
Was all surrounded, not with liquid rhyme,
But flashing pictures in the golden frame—
Then passed away,
Like fading cloudlets at the closing day.

The sunbeam still remained and still the word,
Like fabled picture in its frame of gold,
Gleamed thro' its veil of sunshine, when he heard
The music of a voice, oft heard of old,
But silent long
Amid the chorus of a sadder song.

"Read, Dreamer, yonder mystic scroll
My hand has drawn beneath the golden beam!
Then cast the shadow from thy doubting soul,
And change the tenor of thy idle dream!
Look and behold!
The Future hidden neath this veil of gold!"

The "Dreamer" looked, and round the word "Sometime"
Such fairy pictures clustered that his heart
Filled with an ecstasy at one sublime,
Seemed of the sunbeam and the word apart,
While all the earth
Was filed with music, such as hailed its birth!

The vision of his bright dreams fulfilled—
A sunny pathway, free from cank'ring care—
A heart with every yearning passion stilled—
A happy future—all were pictured there
And—brightest, best—
Beyond the lines, a calm eternal rest!

With head still bent, but not with sorrow bowed,
The dreamer long in silent rapture stood.
The years of quiet sorrow round him crowd,
A silent uncongenial brotherhood!
Each friend of old
Stands smiling there, with folded wings of gold!

Sweet Hope! How welcome to the heart thy voice,
When naught but echoes of the haunting Past
Sound in its chambers! or the louder noise
Of battling passions, crowding fierce and fast
Its portals, filled
With voiceless singers cruel fate has stilled.

Frank B. Copp.

Fashions for Spring, 1876.

Affections are cut close, are worn by old and young, and are equally becoming to all. They are useful for every-day wear, for hill-climbing and rock-scaling. They come mostly in the old decided colors, and are worn long or short to suit the convenience of the wearer.

Honor is beginning to be considered a somewhat antiquated goods. Several large houses are selling out below cost, preparatory to going out of business, "as there is no profit in it," they say. Large stocks have accumulated on their hands, as they found few purchasers for even the finest quality. Some apparently heavy dealers have failed entirely, and closed up for want of capital.

Generosity was much worn at the holiday season. It is not an imported goods, but of home manufacture, and comes in all prices and grades.

Intellect is much sought after at certain shops, where it is supposed to be found. A "shoddy" article is often palmed off upon shoppers, a quality with a cotton back and a satin figure. But those really desirous of purchasing can always find a genuine article, and it is within the means of the poor.

Fraud, though not as popular as it was last year, is occasionally worn as a neglige by those retiring into bankruptcy, and at the reception of creditors by their two per cent. debtors.

There is another garment shown at the openings which promises to be as great a favorite this spring as ever. Its common name is Love. It comes in suits, prices ranging from one hundred to many thousand dollars per suit. It is made to order when desired. Sometimes much profit is realized on the sales. Many who have purchased say that it can be turned and made over for another season. There is much counterfeit in the market. It requires a practiced eye to detect the false. Only the real will wear; the frail imitation soon gets shabby by dust and friction. I am told that some of our leading fashionables invest in cheap material, and trimmed up nicely, it is thought, to look as well as the genuine.

Policy is one of the most popular overgarments of the season. It seems to be worn by all ages and classes. It is considered the "correct thing" for court, business, or society. Some skill is required in wearing it, so that the lining, which is often of a different texture shall not show. Those designed for ladies are often trimmed with a bewildering combination of puffs, bows, and folds; those for gentlemen are ornamented with red tape.

Orthodoxy is not so high or straight as in former seasons, nor buttoned so closely. Heresy is very popular, especially when worn with white neck-ties.

Creeds are not so much imported as at one time, but are home-made, which causes a great variety.—"Bric-a-Brac;" Scribner for May.

Starved in a Dining Room.

A touching story is that of a little wild bird that flew into the great dining hall of the Grand Union hotel at Saratoga, and could neither find its own way out nor be lured to safety by the kindly endeavors of the servants, through the entrances and the lower parts of the windows were nearly always open. The heavy upholstery of the upper half of the windows prevented its only chance of escape, so after fluttering bewildered among the forests of chandeliers for six days, guests all the time feasting at the tables below, it at length died of starvation and was picked up on the floor.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, April 20, 1876.

From a long period of dullness, we are turned to one of comparative activity. The banks have a fair and quite regular demand for loans, and a current business that is quite satisfactory. It is believed that this will continue for a time, and that business will gradually revive, even after the first of May. There is no unfavorable condition manifest in the market, and the outlook is rather bright than dark. The relative activity at the banks is in itself a sign of the times. It shows that more money is being used, and that business men have a prospect that evidently justifies them in calling out means from the banks.

We quote call loans at 5a6 per cent., strictly first-class two-name paper at 7 per cent., strictly first-class single-name paper at 8 per cent., loans on Government collateral and first-class bonds and stocks at 6 per cent., do. do. on second-class bonds and stocks at 7a8 per cent.

The paying out of silver commenced yesterday at the U. S. Depository, and several thousand dollars was paid out in a short time.

The real estate market is still depressed, although there is some spasmodic activity, and sales are occasionally made. There are still properties to rent, and some demand. The entire real estate market may be called quiet.

It seems probable from all that has transpired so far in the present Congress that there will be no material change of the laws controlling the national banks. It is quite apparent that the points openly pressed, the removal of the tax from deposits and from capital, or the stamps from checks and drafts, will not get through during the present session; nor is it all probable that the 90 per cent. limit of the issue of bank notes will be advanced to par. We do not look either for any decided action in reference to resumption of specie payments.

It is known that there is in circulation more or less counterfeit fractional currency, and the system to be adopted for its return to Washington for examination may secure its detection. Yet the New York Post thinks the counterfeiting of silver coins will be a much easier work than counterfeiting fractional notes. In fact, if even the requisite amount of standard silver is put into counterfeit coins they can be made at a large profit, so that if the silver will circulate there will be more difficulty by reason of counterfeits, than there is now or has been since the use of fractional notes. There is no doubt that it will circulate at present, or that it would have circulated any time within the past few months. Had the old coinage law of 1852 been in force (it having been repealed by act of 1873) silver change would have been in use months ago and with no risk to the Treasury.

The number of failures in Philadelphia from the 1st of January to the 1st of April is put down at 34, with liabilities aggregating $1,322,220. The number of failures in the State of Pennsylvania during the same quarter, exclusive of those in that city, is put down at 139, with liabilities to the amount of $3,125,171, against 155 failures and $4,927,606 of liabilities in corresponding time in 1875.

We see it stated that the responsible safe deposit companies are likely to have the benefit of an important amendment to the National banking laws, just passed by the House of Representatives, relieving the national banks of responsibility for the care of valuables, such as stocks, bonds, silver and gold plate, &c., unless receipted for and a consideration paid for their care by special agreement.

The bullion yield of the Consolidated Virginia Mine for the month of March was $3,500,000. The daily ore product is seven hundred and thirty tons, which keeps the mills running to their full capacity.

NEW YORK, April 19, 1876.

Money closed easy at 2a3½; prime mercantile paper 4½a6. The customs receipts were $327,000. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $25,000. The clearings were $19,000,000. Sterling was steady at 487½a489½. Gold opened at 113, and closed at 113⅛. The carrying rates were 1 to 2. Loans were also made flat. Governments were steady. Railroad bonds were firm. State securities were quiet. Stocks opened irregular and became somewhat excited in consequence of the action of the managers of trunk lines relative to freights. Michigan Central declined 3⅛ per cent. Besides the railroad troubles, this stock was affected by free sales by prominent holders. Lake Shore declined to 54⅞. Western Union was exceptionally firm, and advanced to 68, with a subsequent reaction to 67⅝. In the last hour the general list was heavy, while New York Central advanced 1 per cent., and Michigan Central and Lake Shore recovered ⅜ and ⅝ respectively from the lowest point of the day. The transactions aggregated 192,000 shares, of which 15,000 were Pacific Mail, 45,000 Western Union, 6,000 St. Paul, 16,000 Erie, 78,000 Lake Shore, and 24,000 Michigan Central.

LONDON, April 19.—The amount of bullion gone into the Bank of England on balance to-day was £215,000. It is the general opinion that the bank rate will be lowered to-morrow. The rate of discount in open market for three months' bills is 1⅜ per cent., being 1⅝ below the Bank of England. Chicago Lumber Market.

Trade at the yards is improving, but the general market is weak, the stock at distributing points being larger than usual at the opening of a new season. Green lumber is arriving, but not yet in sufficient quantities to materially effect the market. About half a dozen cargoes were offered at the sales docks yesterday, and sales of dry inch stuff were made at $10a12. Some yards are wanting this kind of lumber.

New York Cheese Market.

The Bulletin of Tuesday says: We find a very quiet market, and both buyers and sellers appear to have "nothing new" to report. Former prices are quoted in the absence of any base for a change, but under the ruling condition of affairs must be considered as somewhat nominal, with the tone barely steady. Shippers give no indications of their probable movements for the week, and the outlook is very doubtful, but holders are hopeful that with the comparatively small stock here and the low rates reached a further concession will be unnecessary. The home demand still moderate, with prices about as before, but as the choice lots suited to this outlet are scarce, values commence to work up a little above the export figure, as usual at this season.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, April 19, 1876.

There is a continued fair degree of activity in general business, and it is steadily increasing; orders are coming forward from the country pretty freely, and our merchants generally are busy. The leading staples present no new or important features deserving of special notice, excepting that late advices from New York report Coffee as having stiffened up again.

APPLES—Sales, in a jobbing way, at $4a5 ℔ bbl for common to fair, and $5.50a6.50 for good to prime.

APPLE BUTTER—70a75c ℔ gall.

BEANS—There is an increasing demand, but no improvement in prices as yet; prime navies, $1.10a1.15 ℔ bu. in round lots, and $1.20a1.25 in a small way.

BUTTER—The market continues weak, with the supply accumulating and dealers all anxious to realize; prime to choice rolls, 26a28c; choice dairy, in small packages, 29a30c.

CHEESE—In light stock and firm at quotations; we continue to quote prime Ohio Factory, 13½a14; prime New York, 14½a15.

CRANBERRIES—In light supply, but there is not much inquiry, prices, however, are fully maintained; $15a16 ℔ bbl.

DRIED FRUIT—Demand is better and increasing, but as yet no improvement in prices. Apples quoted at 9a10c for fair to prime; fancy, 10½a11c. Peaches, 11½a12 for prime halves. Blackberries, 12 a12½. Pitted Cherries, 25a28c.

EGGS—The feeling begins to prevail that hard pan has been reached, hence some dealers are indifferent about selling at current rates, as they expect a reaction within the next week. We continue to quote at 16c, although it is intimated that sales have been made within the past day or two as low as 15c.

FLOUR—The market continues firm, with a very fair demand, especially for good stock. The country production of flour has been comparatively light recently, in consequence of the bad roads, which prevented many of the mills from receiving wheat. Spring wheat flours, $6.50a7, the outside figure for choice Minnesotas; red winters, $6.50a$7.25 for fair to choice. Rye Flour, $4.75a5.

GROCERIES—Late advices from New York report Coffee as having stiffened up again, but our Baltimore dispatch, of yesterday, reported that market dull. Sugars and prime N. O. Molasses continue firm.

GRAIN—There is a steady demand for Wheat, and the market is firm, but unchanged; fair to prime Ohio and Indiana red, $1.35a1.38; do Michigan white, $1.42a1.45. There is considerable inquiry from country millers. The Oat market is firmer, in consequence of light receipts and an increased demand; quotable at 39a40c for Penna. and Ohio mixed, and 42a43 for white. Shelled Corn continues scarce, and notwithstanding the inquiry is light, prices are strong and tending upward; quoted at 62a65c for good high mixed to prime yellow. Sales of Ear Corn, on wharf and track, at 58a60c. Rye quoted at 80a85c.

HAY—The supply of baled is light, scarcely equal to the demand, and prices are firm but unchanged; No. 1 Timothy, $19a20; No. 2 do, $17a18.

HOMINY—In steady demand at $4.00 ℔ bbl, and the usual discount off in round lots.

MILL FEED—Bran is quoted at $18a19 ℔ ton; Seconds and Shipstuffs, $17a18; Middlings and Chopped Feed, $20a22, as to quality.

MAPLE SYRUP—Quoted at 95ca$1 ℔ gallon in kegs and barrels, and $1.10a1.15 in gallon jugs. Maple Sugar, 10a11c ℔ lb.

ONIONS—Very dull; $1a1.50 ℔ bbl. Onion Setts very dull and difficult to quote.

PROVISIONS—There is no quotable change to note in prices; trade continues fairly active, and while orders are small, there is a very fair business in the aggregate. A Chicago exchange of yesterday says: "The outward movement of provisions is now proceeding at a lively rate. The Germans are begining to take hold of lard for the first time this year, and the shipments of lard from the United States ports last week were nearly equal to those of bacon. The recent weakness of lard in Europe is accounted for by the fact of very free offerings from this side for delivery the last half of May and during June, these offers being called out by the expectation of lower freight rates. Dealers here have anticipated that they can send lard through for 40c. per 100 lbs, instead of the 80c. demanded during the winter."

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, April 19, 1876.

ARRIVALS.

The arrivals in the aggregate for the week ending at noon to-day, as well as those of the preceding week, were as follows:

	This week.	Last week.
Cattle	380 cars	398 cars
Hogs	212 cars	189 cars
Sheep	99 cars	54 cars
Total	691 cars	691 cars

Briggs, Dock & Drum, Commission Merchant, for the sale of live stock, at the East Liberty Stock Yards, report the market as follows:

CATTLE.

Of the 380 cars reported for the week ending at noon to-day, 318 cars were through and 62 cars local against 329 cars of the former and 69 cars of the latter for the preceding week; sales, 644 head; preceding week, 802. It was hoped that hard pan had been reached, and that a reaction would follow, this week, but we regret to state, these hopes have not been realized; indeed, instead of an improvement trade, so far as our market is concerned, is growing worse and worse. The supply of yard Cattle was again light, but the run of through continues to keep up, and in consequence there is no demand worthy of the name; with the exception of a few country dealers and butchers, we have no buyers, hence the supply, notwithstanding it was small, was in excess of the demand, and several bunches have already been shipped on in first hands. Philadelphia is getting about all the Cattle she wants direct from Chicago, and there is little or no inquiry on either Baltimore or New York account, and in addition the small buyers are taking hold very sparingly. It is hoped that there will soon be a change for the better, although it must be confessed that the outlook is not very encouraging.

SHEEP.

The run this week has been heavy, and with unfavorable advices from the east and a very limited demand, the market has been the worst we have experienced for a long time. The regular eastern buyers bought very sparingly, in consequence of having a good many left over unsold, and it looks as if trade cannot improve until they get cleared up again. Prices for wooled sheep have dropped fully ½c ℔ lb, and for clipped ¼ to ½c, as compared with last week and as we close our report there are quite a number remaining in the yards unsold. The run this week was entirely too heavy for sellers, as the increased offerings had considerable to do with the decline. Following may be regarded as the ruling

HOGS

Since last Friday morning our market has been very dull, notwithstanding the receipts were only fair and the supply by no means large. It is almost impossible to sell more than one or two cars of Philadelphia hogs per day, as shippers say they can't use any more, notwithstanding prices are fully as low relatively as in Chicago. On Monday, Yorkers sold more freely, but there was no improvement in Philadelphia grades. The former are selling at 7.50a8.10, the bulk of the sales being within the range of 7.60a7.90; and the latter mainly at 8.25a8.25. Sale of a cars fair "stillers," averaging about 280 lbs at 7¾. The feeling to-day, was somewhat firmer owing to light receipts, and prices were a shade better.

Dried Fruit in New York.

The demand from all quarters is moderate at the moment, and the market without new features. Apples are irregular, but for other styles there seems to be an inclination towards a more steadier tone, and the offering are made with less freedom. PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, April 19, 1876.

Trade continues very quiet, and the market presents but little that is really new or important. Crude, as compared with yesterday, has still further declined. United was quoted at $1.86½a1.87½, and immediate shipment at $2.06½a2.06. Refined also weak in sympathy with Crude, but prices are without quotable change; Philadelphia, 14¾a14½; Baltimore, 14c; on cars here, 10¾a11c. The shipments east continue liberal, ranging from 3,000 to 4,000 bbls ℔ day, and it is worthy of notice that some of the outside refiners have started up.

The Barrel market continues quiet and unchanged; countries, $1.15; city make, $1.20a1.25.

JOHN KABERNAGLE, Sergeant, Signal Service, U. S. A.

THE stage of water last evening was 5½ feet and falling. Weather continues clear and pleasant, and very favorable for out-door business.

THE La Belle has laid up at Algiers.

IT costs $600 daily to run the Great Republic.

THE Barnard, Capt. Cramer, is announced to depart for St. Louis to-day.

CAPT. JAS. M. KIRKER will take command of the Exchange at Portsmouth.

CAPT. OWEN W. DAVIS advertises the steamer Laura L. Davis for sale for $13,000.

THE Mallie Ragon, from Wheeling, arrived and and departed, and the Granite State is due to-day.

A BISMARCK dispatch of the 11th says the river is fully open at that place, and the ferry making regular trips.

THE Vicksburg Herald, 14th, says: The cut-off is a fixed fact. Boats can go across the point without trouble.

PILOTS must look out for a sunken coal barge in the channel of the Ohio, half a mile above the mouth of Big Sandy.

THE deceased wife of Capt. Sam Gray, who died in St. Louis, last Thursday, was the daughter of Captain T. B. Johnson.

CAPT. BURTON has retired from the command of the Opelousas packet Tensas, and Capt. E. Quatrevaux has taken his place.

THE Emma Graham arrived and departed with a good trip both ways; but this is nothing unusual. She makes her time with remarkable promptness.

ST. LOUIS and New Orleans freights have been advanced under the new pool arrangement to 30c. for flour, 15c. for grain, and 17c. for bacon and lard.

THE John L. Rhoads is en route from St. Louis, with a good trip. The Mary Miller from the same point is due here during the latter part of the week.

THE Rylands have made nearly a monopoly of river reporting in St. Louis, "Old Reliable" Ralph representing the Republican, and Stanley the Times (ad interim.)

CAPT. VANDERGRIFT'S iron steamer Alex. Swift has been out three years, and the repairs to her hull have not cost a cent. She is now lying in Licking River awaiting business.

AN Ironton dispatch under date of 17th says: The Oakland passed up light at 4:35 P. M., passing Ashland, five miles above, in 25 minutes, one minute more than the Bostona and Fleetwood.

THE owners of the Tiger expect to raise her without much difficulty; it is evident however, that she is considerably damaged. The Sam Clark has been working at her since Tuesday evening.

THE steamer Dictator, belonging to Huse Loomis & Co., ice dealers, was wrecked, and is a total loss, at the Hannibal Bridge. H. Young, clerk; Wm. Foster, engineer, and eight to ten others of the crew were lost.

THE tow-boats Oakland and Charley Brown, arrived; and the Eagle, Charley Brown, Nellie Speer, Coal City, and Lion, departed with tows of coal. The Oakland made the run from Cincinnati to Pittsburgh in 46 hours 45 minutes.

OUR St. Louis dispatch of Tuesday, reported that Com. Kountz contemplates putting an opposition line of steamers in the trade between St. Louis and St. Paul. What does it mean? Perhaps some of our St. Louis exchanges can explain.

THE fine side-wheeler Arlington, Captain Dan. Moore, is, as will be seen by card, announced to take his departure for St. Louis to-day; and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind. Messrs. McConnell, Ackley, and Shepard, are associated together in the office.

CEDAR SNAG is the name of a new steamboat just built at Nashville by Eph. Frisbee, the son of Capt. R. R. Frisbee, of Pittsburgh, the person who built the Kate Frisbee, the first side-wheel steamer that was even in California. In 1872 Eph. built at Louisville the Saratoga. In 1857 he was clerk of the Poland when she ran between Pittsburgh and Nashville.

THE following personal is from the Louisville Courier: Capt. Ike Whitaker is at the Galt House. He is taking lessons on a Dutch accordeon with a view to starting a band of minstrels and set up a shop at Cairo. The way that Ike can squeeze wind and "Molly Darling," out of an old accordeon would astonish the deaf, and make the blind to wink, and the lame to dance. Go for it, Ike.

FIRE IN THE BEER GARDEN.

Billy Burdett's Summer Saloon Destroyed

At half-past twelve o'clock last night a fire broke out in Burdett's beer garden, at the north end of the suspension bridge. The fire started in the new saloon recently erected near the entrance gate. So rapidly did the flames spread that it seemed scarcely a moment until the entire structure was completely enveloped. The department promptly responded to a summons from box 45, and soon had the flames under control. The loss is estimated at about $150, with no insurance. It is said to be a clear case of incendiarism.

STRUCK BY A TRAIN.

An Unknown Man Killed on the P. F. W. & C. R. R.

Last evening about six o'clock a man was seen walking along the track of the P. F. W. & C. R. R., at Fair Oaks station, by the engineer of the Pittsburgh express, but before a stop could be effected the engine had struck him and knocked him off the track. The train was immediately stopped. The man was picked up, but found to be dead. His head had been crushed and one of his legs broken. The body was brought to Allegheny City and removed to Rodney & Smith's undertaking establishment. It is that of a young German about twenty-two years of age. He was clothed in a rough mixed gray coat, had two vests and two pairs of white stockings on, and dark barred pantaloons. One of his fingers had been crippled, and one of his great toes was missing. The Coroner will hold an inquest today.

WE HAVE RESUMED.

The Silver Tide is Flowing.

At noon yesterday Ad. Cameron, Cashier of the U. S. Depository, received orders from the Secretary of the Treasury at Washington to loose the silver cord and let it flow as freely as the multitude might desire, on condition that it should only be exchanged for fractional currency in amounts of five dollars or multiples of the same. There was quite a rush for the shiners at first, but it was evident from the deportment of the customers that it was more to satisfy curiosity than to secure any benefit, that they made the exchange. One country bank sent in a small carpet-sack full of "rags" and carried out about ten pounds of the hard stuff. Up to the present time about $80,000, all in fifty cent and one dollar pieces has been received. Had it been paid out in sums smaller than five dollars, more would have found its way into the pockets of the people. The newsboys and boot blacks complain that is utterly impossible for them to reach a practical resumption until the dimes come out. The amount paid out yesterday aggregates about $1,500, but a bigger business will be done to-day. Unless the smaller denominations are brought out within a few days there will be a dearth of small change. The banks have stored away all the currency they could lay their hands on, in order to put o[illegible] of handling silver until the [illegible]

WORKINGMEN'S M[illegible]ING.

Mount Oliver Ringing Wit[illegible]dorsement of the Labor Conv[illegible]

There was a mass meeting of [illegible] men at the toll-gate on Mount Oliv[illegible] night. It was thought proper by so[illegible] the local delegates to the convention to h[illegible] the proceedings of that body ratified, [illegible] some degree, by the workingmen of this vicinity, before the departure of the delegates from other States, and to that end a meeting was called on the Mount, where so many of the men particularly interested in labor movements have their homes. There was a large gathering, and the gossip among the men present, before the meeting, showed that the proceedings of the convention had been closely watched. There were no dissatisfied ones there. All seemed to feel that the convention, which had just adjourned, had been governed during its deliberations by an intelligent appreciation of the just desires of the men whom they represented. The outcome of this knowledge, as expressed in the resolutions adopted, was eminently satisfactory, and many who had regarded the assemblage hopelessly were convinced that the delegates had done their work well. It was universally agreed that the cause of the laboring man was clearly presented in the final report of the Committee on Resolutions, and that the series of declarations there made accurately delineated the wrongs that should be righted ere the laboring man could be satisfied that he was in possession of his rights.

There were a number of speakers. Mr. Blair, of New York, one of the delegates foremost in opposition to the Internationalists and Social Democrats in the Convention, was listened to with great interest, and his audience seemed to feel with him that the withdrawal of this incendiary element from the Convention was a benefit rather than an injury to the cause of the workingmen.

Speeches were also made by Mr. D. O. Dempsey, of Indianapolis, Mr. B. F. Torbett, of Harrisburg, and Mr. L. J. Booker, (in German) of Pittsburgh.

The proceedings of the convention were quite thoroughly reviewed, and the constant recurrence of applause manifested that this great body of Pittsburgh workingmen were in full accord with the men who had been working for their advancement in the National Convention.

A TESTY QUESTION.

The Proposition to Test the Duty of the Lowry Engine, in Allegheny, Accepted

A special meeting of the Water Committee of Allegheny Councils was held last evening for the purpose of taking action in regard to the proposed test of the Lowry engine, at the water works. After the object of the meeting had been stated Mr. Drum moved that three men be appointed as judges of the proposed test, one by the committee, one by Mr. Lowry and one by Mr. Hemphill. After some discussion Mr. Lowry, who was present, was requested to address the committee on the matter. He said that he would enter into no test with Mr. Hemphill, as that gentleman had been a personal enemy of his for twenty years. He would not appoint any person to represent him in this matter if Mr. Hemphill had anything to do with it. He desired that the engine be given a fair test, and that a committee of the best men in the country should make the test. If Mr. Hemphill was allowed to appoint one of the judges he would undoubtedly appoint an enemy of the engine, and he (Lowry) would of course appoint a friend of the engine, and when the test would be made the whole question of its fairness would fall upon the judge appointed by the committee. He would co-operate in everything that would lead to a fair test. In regard to the speed of the engine he said it would be very easy to give it a low duty by not allowing it to run at a fair speed. He thought it should run at about seven or eight revolutions a minute, which could be done with safety. After further discussion Mr. Drum's motion was adopted. The point being raised that Mr. Lowry would not appoint a judge with Mr. Hemphill, it was agreed to allow both gentlemen until Saturday to make their appointments, when, if either fail to do so, the judges shall be appointed by a sub-committee, which consists of Messrs. Lindsay, Drum, Parkhill, Patterson and Davis. This committee was also directed to fix the time for the test. It was agreed that all persons should be excluded from the water works on the day of the test excepting members of Councils and reporters.

THE LABOR CONVENTION.

An Earnest Platform Adopted by the Reformers—Workingmen's Views of the Ills they are Heirs To—Resolutions in Favor of a Protective Tariff—Railroad Discriminations Denounced—The Chinese and the Burlingame Treaty Anathemized—The New Party Scheme Abandoned.

Yesterday the Labor Convention addressed itself particularly to the business for which it was primarily called. The final report of the Committee on Resolutions embraced a platform in which is set forth the grievances, against which the laborer appeals, and the remedies, so far as he can see them, that will relieve him from the real or fancied oppression under which he is now struggling. There is a faint flavor of Communism in the declaration, but as a whole it is not uninteresting reading.

Here it is in full:

Resolved, That this society sympathizes with their fellow-workmen in California in their efforts to repeal thei nfamous Burlingame treaty, and consider it one of the very worst treaties ever made by the Government of a free country. In short, we consider that it is but the revival of the slave-trade under another name.

Resolved, That we hold that in co-operation for trading and manufacturing lies the efficient factor that will eventually emancipate the working classes from the wages system. And we recommend to all workingmen and workingwomen to turn their attention to co-operative societies and become active members thereof; and

Resolved, That we request the National Congress to select an important branch of industry—and we suggest the iron workers and coal mining trades—and appropriate a reasonable sum, with proper security, principal and interest to be paid at the end of twenty years, at a low rate of interest, not to exceed three per cent. per annum.

Resolved, That we proclaim it as one of the principles of our new industrial government that the cost of manufacturing all sorts of machines and machinery be periodically published for the use of purchasers, and that a provision be incorporated in our patent laws that all manufacturers of patented articles, to sell said articles at a certain limited, but just, profit over cost of such manufacture.

Resolved, That we demand of Congress a strong protective tariff, and we condemn the tinkering of the gentlemen now staying in Washington at the Government's (the people's), expense, more especially do we wish to call their attention to the printed matter clause that lets in books sewed but unbound, and by the want of a proper law all our literature is printed in Europe and smuggled into the United States, thereby keeping thousands of useful mechanics idle, both printers and book-binders.

Resolved, That this convention is in favor of the election of the President of the United States by a direct vote of the people.

Resolved, That we demand Congress to enforce the eight-hour law; and

Resolved, We further demand from the different legislatures that eight hours be made a lawful day's work, and that the same be strictly enforced.

Resolved, That we urge upon N. P. Banks, member of Congress, to introduce the homestead bill now in his hands, and we earnestly request our representatives to pass said bill, as we consider its enactment will tend to settle numbers of deserving workingmen on their public lands.

Resolved, That we demand of the Government the enactment of stringent usury laws, prohibiting any rate of interest greater than that equal to the natural increase of wealth by labor.

Resolved, That we heartily condemn that most iniquitous species of robbery known as the "Truck system," in which the workingman is deprived of his just earnings through exorbitant rates for the necessaries of life, and threatened with discharge in case he exercises his right as a man to deal in a legitimate store; And

Resolved, That the proprietors of mills, mines and other industrial pursuits, where this degrading and dishonest system exists, act in a manner unworthy even of the past feudal times, and are a disgrace to this Christian age.

Resolved, That we are emphatically opposed to the contract system now practiced by the State and National Government in the prison and reformatory institutions, and we insist that the system of contracts that interfere with honest industry and reduce such to the condition of pauperism, be abolished; and

Resolved, That we owe a debt of gratitude to the Governor of the State of New York for his veto on the convict and pauper bill.

Resolved, That Congress enact such laws as will give the actual money due for labor precedence over all other debts. That the lands belonging to and the buildings occupied, as well as the machinery, stock, tools or other goods where he performed the labor, also, all lands worked upon, mines and commodities be a lien for the labor performed therein or thereon.

Resolved, That our National and State legislatures be required to pass laws binding all corporate bodies engaged as common carriers to furnish means of transportation at regular fixed rates, and that no discrimination shall be made in favor of any citizen or class of citizens, either by drawback or otherwise; and that a proper penalty be provided for the violation of such laws, by forfeiture of charter.

Resolved, That all laws enacted by our National and State Legislatures, particularly those in which labor is struggling for justice at the hands of capital, be made self-enforcing, that is, with such penalties attached in case of the violation of said laws, that no means of escape, through evasion, technicalities or legal quibbles can possibly occur, therefore insuring [illegible] breaking—and justice to [illegible]

Resolved, Th[illegible] tions [illegible] and pr[illegible] tax, the[illegible] unions th[illegible] to place th[illegible] the trades t[illegible] place of mee[illegible] committee of [illegible]

Resolved, Tha[illegible] State Legislature[illegible] tice laws that will [illegible] competent workmen in the various industries by serving a regular apprenticeship of at least three years.

The afternoon session begun soon after two o'clock, and the following resolution, a substitute for resolution No 7, was introduced for consideration:

Resolved, This convention having been called in the interest of Labor, we confine our work to the call alone.

Pending action upon this a motion was adopted deferring the consideration of all resolutions until it was decided whether the convention favor the organization of a new party or not.

THE VENTILATION BILL.

This rule was immediately suspended and the following resolution, prepared by the mining delegates, at a meeting in the interval of adjournment, was presented and unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, The Senate Committee on Mines and Mining of the State of Pennsylvania have reported the ventilation bill, passed by the House of Representatives, to the Senate with such amendments as to render it nearly useless for the purposes for which it was intended, more especially by the striking out of the penal clause; therefore,

Resolved, That this convention reaffirm their conviction that all legislation for such purposes should be made self enacting. We therefore demand our representatives in the Senate to vote against the striking out of the penal clause, and we miners and delegates in convention assembled pledge ourselves to use our votes and influence to defeat all Senators who shall vote for striking out the penal clause.

THE NEW PARTY DIES PREMATURELY.

The substance of the resolution was telegraphed to Augustus Steiner at Harrisburg, and the convention went into Committee of the Whole for the purpose of considering the various propositions pertaining to the organization of a new party. The minority report on political action, of the Committee on Resolutions was the subject of discussion. It is as follows:

Resolved, That an independent political action is extremely hazardous and detrimental to the labor interests; that the workingmen of the country should organize in Trades' Unions and Labor Leagues to educate the people first, and then, after thorough education and discipline is obtained, to throw the banner of independent action to the breeze, and they believe that existing political parties can be made the vehicle for the attainment of their ends by personal and organized efforts at primary elections of both parties, and through the primaries the nominating conventions, and in this way be able to carry their men and principles into the halls of Congress, and the Legislatures of the various States, and thus secure the enactment of laws, that will be just and equitable.

The preponderating sentiment of the delegates was adverse to the organization of a new party, the prevailing impression being that the true policy, at present, was the control of both organizations, through the primary elections. They saw clearly that by uniting the strength of the workingmen they could control the primaries, and through them the nominating conventions and general elections. The necessity of beginning humbly, and contenting themselves in the youth of their organization with controlling the county and State officers, was fully appreciated, but it was equally patent to them that the result of this beginning would be the creation of a powerful element in their interest in the national halls of legislation.

The committee rose at 4 o'clock and favorably reported the minority report by a vote of 86 ayes to 14 nays. The convention then adopted the report of the committee unanimously.

Then the following resolution was unanimously odopted:

Resolved, That the committee appointed by this convention for the purpose of calling future conventions, be empowered to draw up a set of resolutions for the consideration of such conventions, and that said resolutions shall be published in all labor papers, for at least a month previous to the meeting of the convention, and that all delegates come fully instructed to vote thereon.

A resolution pledging the support of the convention to the temperance cause was laid upon the table.

A unanimous vote of thanks was then tendered to the officers of the convention, and the representatives of the press; a motion declaring the Labor Tribune the official organ of the workingmen of the United States was unanimously adopted, and after hopeful and congratulatory speeches by Mr. J. L. Wright and others, the convention adjourned sine die.

During the session there were delegates present from the following States: Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Maryland, Virginia, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Texas, West Virginia, Missouri, Delaware, Massachusetts and Maine.

THE NAIL ASSOCIATION.

Character of the Manufacturers' Organization Recently Perfected in this City—Its Object to Get Remunerative, But Not Outrageous Prices—Heavy Forfeit for Violation of Rules—Monthly Session To-Day.

A skirmish among the iron firms of Water street is not an unpleasant movement at all, because the transmuters of ore are always courteous to one who approaches them with even ordinary civility, but when the skirmish is carried on with the avowed purpose of extracting all that can be ascertained about any particular matter which the iron operators desire to have kept secret or confidential it is not likely to prove very fruitful, or result in an extraordinary crop of facts and details, if it is within their power to prevent it. Such information as is given below, or the greater part of it, was already in the possession of the writer before he started yesterday afternoon along the bank of the Monongahela in quest of verifying knowledge and further data. It may not be widely known that all the nail manufacturers west of the Allegheny mountains recently held a series of meetings at the Monongahela House for the purpose of organizing an association for their mutual benefit and advantage. The sessions began on the morning of the 2nd of March and ended on the 6th of this month. They gave birth to the Western Nail Association, which is governed by fixed rules and regulations, the violation of which is followed by the penalty of a heavy forfeiture. It was for the purpose of learning if possible the full details of this organization that a member of the GAZETTE staff visited the office of Chess, Smyth & Co. yesterday afternoon. A polite young gentleman, making out bills at the office desk, said their firm was included in the Association, and that they had a printed list of the regulations, but he declined to impart any information on the ground that the agreement the nail manufacturers had entered into was altogether of a confidential and private character, and did not concern the general public at all. He referred the writer to Mr. Joseph D. Weeks, Secretary of the Association, as the proper person to interview. The reporter next had an extended conversation of about one minute in reference to the matter with Mr. James I. Bennett, of the firm of Graff, Bennett & Co. Mr. Bennett reiterated in substance the statement of the gentleman at Chess, Smyth & Co.'s, and mildly but firmly refused to satisfy reportorial desires. Of course it would have been impolite as well as useless to press questions which would have elicited nothing relevant, and a retreat was accordingly made in good order and with an unbroken front. A sortie was forthwith made on Mr. Weeks, one of the associate editors of the Iron World, in his third story office at the corner of Fifth avenue and Market street. Was the gentleman surprised into a torrent of explanation regarding the nature of the body to which he is Secretary? Not to an alarming extent.

"Would you be kind enough, Mr. Weeks, to inform me of the character of the Nail Association recently organized in this city?"

"No, sir, I will not," said Mr. Weeks, laughing. "It is altogether confidential and embodies nothing that would interest or entertain the average reader."

"What is its object?"

"To get a renumerative price for nails. This commodity had fallen as low as $2.40 per keg, a rate that admitted of no profit, and while it was not the purpose to advance nails to an outrageous figure at all, the necessity was felt of doing something to get a fair and paying price. A new card was adopted on a basis of $2.85, terms sixty days, or two per cent. off for cash, less ten cents per keg in lots of two hundred kegs in one shipment." Taking up the current number of the Iron World Mr. Weeks pointed out to the writer the following extract which it contained: "The most important action was an agreement among the members of the Association to put up a forfeit of $100 per machine, to be forfeited in case of any violation of the rules of the association. This looks more like business than the old style of 'pon honor' agreements. Falstaff says 'honor will not mend a broken leg,' but $10,000 of a forfeit from a mill running 100 machines will go a good way toward mending a slight breach of faith."

"Suppose a member of the Association, having an opportunity to effect a heavy sale at a slight discount from the fixed rates, should sell and then withdraw from the organization in preference to paying the forfeit, how would the penalty be collected?" said the reporter.

"Suppose the forfeit is already paid in? What then?"

"Manifestly, that settles the whole question."

"How many firms are included in the Association?"

"Every manufactory in operation west of the Alleghenies, embracing between seventeen and eighteen hundred machines, for each of which, as already stated, the forfeit for a violation of the rules is $100. You thus see that it is to the interest of every manufacturer to adhere strictly to the regulations. It also substitutes a system of mutual confidence for one of aggravating uncertainty. The Association is not a secret society, in the generally accepted meaning of that term, but is only of a confidential and private nature."

The first meeting of the Nail Association since its organization will be held in this city to-day. Mr. W. H. Shoenberger is President. Regular sessions are held on the third Wednesday of every month. By the 5th of each month all the members must, in compliance with the written decrees of the Association, forward to the Secretary a statement of their sales during the previous month so that he can put them in a tabulated form for presentation at the ensuing meeting. A privilege accorded to all is, we believe, to sell nails at as much in excess of card rates as can be obtained, but to cut below the card is to involve forfeiture. Five cents upon each keg sold is set aside to pay the traveling expenses of the gentlemen who are obliged to come from a distance. That the basis upon which the Association was organized is generally satisfactory is proved by the fact that it includes every operating mill, and such universal contentment with the arrangement can be pretty safely relied upon to secure a faithful observance of its rules. The old "pon honor" method of sticking to each other was productive of much dissatisfaction. No one felt it particularly incumbent upon him to abide by an indefinite agreement, and before losing a purchaser he would sell below the rates. The existing system wipes out all that uncertainty. If a buyer should go now to Graff, Bennett & Co. and say that Chess, Smyth & Co., had offered him nails at $2.60 per keg, G., B. & Co. could safely write him down as a prevaricator and a seeker after good bargains at the expense of veracity, because such a procedure on the part of C., S. & Co. would precipitate upon them the forfeit that hangs suspended above the heads of all.

····The spicy paragraphist on the Chicago Times bears the euphonious name of Hell wig. No wonder there is a sulphurous twang to the atmosphere when his auburn hair begins to rise.

····Bartley Campbell has had a Bloomfield Literary Society named after him. Bartley will never die, "unwept, unhonored and unsung," even if he didn't trot out his infant at Wallace's benefit.

····A bullock weighing 4,500 pounds was much admired yesterday at the East Liberty cattle yards by connoisseurs of stock. It belonged to Jacob Seese, of Missouri, and was being taken to the Centennial.

····"Why is Harrisburg called the capital of Pennsylvania?" is one of the questions put to the pupils of Allegheny City at the annual examination on Tuesday. A more stupid interrogatory could not have been framed.

····A thorough bred was prowling around the Court House yesterday hunting for Mike Allen, which gave rise to talk of a prize fight, all of which was squashed when it was discovered that McCallin was the man wanted.

····W. C. Alberts and Alfred Whitman were arrested in Allegheny, yesterday, on suspicion of having stolen a cloak from Andrew Vay. Whitman was afterward discharged, but Alberts was held for a hearing this morning.

····James Herron and Wm. Langan were arrested yesterday on a charge of having stolen a watch on Tuesday night from Johnny Newell, at the Continental saloon. In default of bail they were both committed for court.

····A printer, driven to insanity by delirium tremens, was prevented early yesterday morning by officer James Atkinson, of Allegheny, from committing suicide at the foot of Madison avenue by throwing himself into the river.

····City Superintendent Luckey has sent us a statistical and pictorial educational chart of the city of Pittsburgh. It is gotten up in a clear and concise style, and will give to the visitors at the Centennial a very intelligent idea of our public schools and their course of study.

····The delegates of the United Socialistic Parties will hold a mass meeting this evening at the Bavarian Hotel, Nos. 419 and 421 Liberty street, opposite the Union Depot, to protest against the National Labor Convention and to explain why they retired from the same.

····The Centennial Committee of Allegheny Councils met last evening and appointed a sub-committee to confer with the committee of Pittsburgh Councils in regard to making arrangements for the transportation of Councilmen and their families to Philadelphia. What a noble instance of self-abnegation!

····A grand exhibition and ball is to be given by the Heath Zouaves this evening at the German Masonic Hall, corner of Madison avenue and Washington street, Allegheny. The boys expect to have a lively time after the drill is over, and all those who enjoy good dancing should attend, as the music is to be first class.

····On Tuesday night the store of James Case, at Garver's Ferry, on the Allegheny river, opposite Freeport, was burned down, causing a loss of $10,000, against which there was a partial insurance. A fire in the attic of a building belonging to the Rhey heirs, on Sixteenth street, South side, yesterday forenoon originated an alarm but did no damage. A hole was burned yesterday morning in the ceiling of No. 201 Liberty street. Defective flue.

Xantippe.

It seems that the memory of this woman, like that of her renowned husband, is likely to be kept alive to the end of time. She is said to have possessed a very irritable temper, and her name became a synonym of "vixen," or "scold." It is more than possible, however, that the judgment passed upon her by mankind has been too severe. A more charitable disposition would undoubtedly have discovered in her many good qualities, and have attributed her failings more to physical infirmities than to moral obliquity. The party most intimately acquainted with her, and therefore best able to form a correct opinion, gives her credit for many domestic virtues. It is now well known that many of the diseases to which women are subject, have a direct tendency to render them irritable, peevish, cross, morose, unreasonable, so that they chafe and fret over all those little ills and annoyances that a person in health would bear with composure. It is fair to infer that most of the tantrums of Xantippe were due to these causes alone: and could Socrates, as he returned from the Senate, the Gymnasium, or the Atheneum, have stopped at Pestle & Mortar's Drug store, and carried home a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, now and then, no doubt he might have evaded many a "curtain lecture," allayed many a "domestic broil," made it much pleasanter for the children, and more enjoyable for himself, and rescued his wife's name from the unenviable, world wide, and eternal notoriety it has attained. Thousands of women bless the day on which Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was first made known to them. A single bottle often gives delicate and suffering women more relief than months of treatment from their family physician. In all those derangements causing backache, dragging-down sensations, nervous and general debility, it is a sovereign remedy. Its soothing and healing proprieties render it of the utmost value to ladies suffering from internal fever, congestion, inflammation, or ulceration, and its strengthening effects tend to correct displacements of internal parts, the result of weakness of natural supports. It is sold by all druggists.

Variety the Spice of Life.

Variety in assortment of furniture is an especial feature of the stock at the furniture rooms of J. L. Lytle & Co., No. 169 Smithfield street.

—The Minister of War of Turkey yesterday received a dispatch from Muhktar Pasha stating that six engagements had been fought on six successive days, and that he had gained a victory in each case, although he had been outnumbered two to one. Muhktar was at Gatzke when the dispatch was sent, where he had returned after leaving provisions for Nicsic in Fort Prejeka, which is three hours march to the northwest of Nicsic. Thirty-one Turks were killed and seventy-six wounded. The insurgent loss is much greater. A Vienna telegram reports that Mukhtar Pasha's losses during his retreat were enormous. The mountain passes were so narrow as only to admit of five men marching abreast. Rocks were continually hurled down the precipices upon the Turkish forces as they struggled through.

—Barney Williams, the popular comedian, who was thought to be dying a day or two ago, is now said to be recovering from his illness. Bernark Flaherty is the real name of the comedian, which has been obscured by his stage appellation. He was born in Cork, Ireland, in 1823, and is therefore not so far advanced in life as to be depleted of the physical strength which may enable him to resume activity. His success on the stage dates from his marriage with Mrs. Charles Mestayer (nee Miss Maria Pray) an actress of note, and their European engagements in 1855 and 1856 gave the dramatic pair a great reputation. Barney Williams has two children living.
